Loopholes on your shelves??

Take the advice of a professional librarian . . .

"When we discover that there are too few books on some subject, we turn to SUBJECT GUIDE for additions to be considered. It is helping us build a more complete collection."*

Mrs. Rubie M. Hanks, Librarian
Winn Parish Library, Winnfield, Louisiana

Take a tip from Mrs. Hanks—check your book collections against the subject headings in the new 1959 SUBJECT GUIDE TO BOOKS IN PRINT and discover the loopholes on your shelves. You'll know at a glance just what books are available on everything from medieval history to modern guided missiles (24,000 subject headings in all!). And, at the same time, you'll see where you can replace worn, out-dated volumes with new titles. You'll find that SUBJECT GUIDE will become an indispensable aid in keeping your book collections as comprehensive and up-to-date as possible.

*Reviewing her book collections is not the only use Mrs. Hanks makes of SUBJECT GUIDE. She also writes, "We have all been so enthusiastic about SUBJECT GUIDE TO BOOKS IN PRINT, and we find it comes in handy in so many ways. Patrons are always consulting it when looking for books on certain subjects, and our staff finds it a big help in filling subject requests through Interlibrary Loan."

Order an on-approval copy today and try SUBJECT GUIDE in your library. Return in 2 weeks for full credit if you are not completely satisfied. Just published in October. 1552 pages. $17.50 net postpaid.

THE NEW 1960

AMERICAN LIBRARY & BOOK TRADE ANNUAL

Tells you at a glance:

- the latest salary statistics for library personnel
- officers and committee chairmen of all the library associations
- *• comparative coverage of leading book review media
- current book price trends
- book production figures in the U.S. and abroad
- *• new standards for indexing
- library book budgets
- *• average library building costs
- library standards
- grants offered to libraries
- *• exhibits procedures
- latest state and federal library legislation
- *• the new ALA recruitment program

"RATES A BIBLIOGRAPHIC WOLF WHISTLE . . ."

says the Pacific Northwest Library Association Quarterly. "This annual rates, and has rated from its first bow to the library world in 1956, a bibliographic wolf whistle. Sleek and stream-lined, good to look at, easy to hold in the hand, quick to yield up a surprising multitude of facts in accurate detail. . . . Hours of time and, in some instances, a good bit of fret and fuss are, without question, saved for librarians by having all these facts marshalled and brought together in this useful and usable assemblage. . . . Should be at the right hand of every administrator and easily available to all librarians."

Listed above are only some of the hundreds of charts, articles, analyses and listings offered in this one unique volume. The star (*) indicates some of the sections entirely new to this edition, and charts which have appeared previously are, of course, fully up-dated for the new 1960 ANNUAL. Reserve your copies now! Only $5 net postpaid, on approval, from R. R. BOWKER COMPANY, 62 West 45th St., New York 36, N. Y.
